October Fun Facts

1. Why Is October Called October?

The word October comes from the Latin word octo, meaning eight. In the ancient Roman calendar, October was the eighth month of the year. Later, January and February were added to the calendar, but October kept its original name.

2. Why Do Leaves Change Colour?

During summer, leaves appear green because they contain chlorophyll, which helps plants use sunlight to make food. As the days become shorter and temperatures cool, trees stop producing as much chlorophyll. The green colour fades, revealing beautiful yellow, orange and red pigments that were already present in the leaves.

Pumpkins Are Fruit!

Although we often think of pumpkins as vegetables, botanically they are fruits because they develop from the flower of the plant and contain seeds.

And pumpkins aren't just for Halloween — they can be used in pies, soups, breads, muffins and even pancakes!

Butternut Squash Soup- Recipe of the Month

Did You Know?

Butternut squash is actually a fruit, not a vegetable! It belongs to the same family as pumpkins, cucumbers, and melons. Its naturally sweet, nutty flavour makes it a wonderful ingredient for warm fall dishes.

Ingredients:

- 1 medium butternut squash, peeled and cubed
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 carrots, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 cups vegetable or chicken broth
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ cup cream or milk (optional)
- 1 tablespoon butter or olive oil

Directions:

1. Heat butter or olive oil in a large pot and sauté the onion and garlic until soft.
2. Add the squash, carrots, broth, salt, pepper, and cinnamon.
3. Bring to a boil, then reduce heat and simmer for 20–25 minutes, until the vegetables are tender.
4. Blend until smooth using an immersion blender or regular blender.
5. Stir in cream or milk if desired.
6. Serve warm with a sprinkle of cinnamon or a little parsley on top.

Animal of the Month:

The fox is deeply tied to October through both a fascinating biological phenomenon known as the "October Crazies" and its rich, ancient spiritual symbolism as a "liminal" guide.

The Guide of the "Liminal" Space: October is traditionally viewed as a "liminal" month—a transitional bridge between the light of summer and the dark of winter. In Celtic mythology, foxes are considered the ultimate liminal creatures. Because they are crepuscular (most active at the twilight hours of dawn and dusk), they are thought to be magical guides capable of walking between worlds and navigating major life transitions with ease.

Fascinating Fox Facts

- Foxes can hear extremely well. They can locate small animals by sound, even when they cannot see them.
- Their bushy tail has many purposes. It helps with balance, provides warmth when they curl up to sleep, and can even act like a blanket.
- Foxes are very adaptable. They can live in forests, fields, farmland and even areas close to cities.
- They are excellent jumpers. A fox can leap high into the air to catch prey hiding underneath vegetation or snow.
- Foxes use many different sounds to communicate, including barks, screams, yelps, whines and high-pitched calls.

News from IPAC

As we move into the fall and winter months, respiratory viruses such as influenza (flu), COVID-19, and Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV) are more common. Residents of long-term care and retirement homes are at higher risk for these infections, making vaccination one of the most effective ways to stay protected. As a reminder, COVID-19 vaccines can be administered as early as three months after testing positive for COVID-19 or the last dose of the vaccine. As well, the flu, RSV and COVID-19 vaccines can be administered at the same time.

Please watch your email for more information and the consent forms for these vaccines

If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to Susan, Infection Prevention and Control Manager, 519-856-4622 extension 247 or clinical@edenhousecarehome.ca
